Costuming Cars for Haul-O-Ween

Geared up for tricks and treats at Cars Land in Disney California Adventure® Park.<sup>1</sup>

Everywhere you look in Cars Land at Disney California Adventure® Park, it's apparent that Lightning McQueen and his pals had a great time preparing for their Haul-O-Ween celebration. That includes donning some frightfully fun costumes.

"We have five Cars Characters who drive through Cars Land making appearances including Lightning McQueen, Mater, Red, Cruz Ramirez and DJ, and they want to get into the Halloween spirit, too," says Brian D. Sandahl, Senior Art Director, Disney Parks Live Entertainment, Disneyland® Resort.

GIANT WIGS AND FEATHERS

Costuming a car is very different than costuming people. For one thing, there's size. Dressed as a clown, Red, the fire engine, wears a big blue wig. "It's one thing to sketch a concept drawing of a wig. It's an entirely different matter to construct one that is 20 times larger than life," Sandahl says with a chuckle. "Even the scale of the hair has to be bigger. We cut between 60 to 70 wigs apart and used them to construct a giant wig for Red."

Functionality is also a major consideration. "For instance, Cruz wears an 8-foot-wide pirate hat with 9-to-10-foot long plumes," Sandahl says. "Obviously, we couldn't use real feathers. One rainy day and you have a soggy mess. We finally settled on clear plastic printed with a feather pattern."

Lightning McQueen will continue to live up to his reputation as super speedy hero of the racetrack as what else—a superhero! DJ is a punk rocker and Mater is returning as a vampire, complete with fangs and cape. To turn Mater purple without a time-consuming paint job, Sandahl and his team used a custom vinyl wrap. "Our challenge was figuring out how to wrap a bumpy, rusty truck. It wasn't all smooth going."

"I've created a lot of unusual things at the Parks, but costuming cars was one of the strangest!"

—Brian D. Sandahl, Senior Art Director, Disney Parks Live Entertainment, Disneyland® Resort

After snapping photos with the Characters in their Haul-O-Ween costumes, snap up a Spoke-y Cone Macaron at Flo's Cozy Cone. Or cruise over to Pixar Pier to refuel at the Paradise Garden Grill and use your Disney Visa Debit Card to get 10% off dining most days.<sup>5</sup>

"Costuming the cars has been a really fun project," Sandahl concludes. "I enjoy hanging out at the Cozy Cone and watching our Guests interact with them. Making our Guests smile is what drives us all."

Creating Confection Perfection

The Making of Halloween Candy Apples

Candied apples are a favorite treat for Guests all year round, but they become even more tantalizing during Halloween, when they are turned into works of art by Tony Arellano, Candy Maker, Disneyland® Resort and his team at Marceline's Confectionery in the Downtown Disney® District. "Guests love to watch us work. We've even had them applaud us. We're like another show at the Park," Arellano says. Watch the dipping process in the morning and return in the evening to see the final sweet and scary decorated creation. Happy Munching!

- It takes about eight hours to complete one batch of apples from dipping to decorating.
- Complex designs like the Evil Queen apple can take up to two hours to decorate.

- The team creates about 3,000 apples daily—a whopping 135,000 during the Halloween season.
- About 625 pounds of caramel are used daily during the Halloween season. That's over 28,000 pounds of caramel!

Let Your Tastebuds Be Your Guide

With more than 30 Global Marketplaces serving food inspired by cuisine and ingredients from around the world, there are literally hundreds of flavors for you to enjoy at the 23rd Annual Epcot® International Food & Wine Festival. This year, Chef Gregg Hannon, Culinary Director for Epcot®, highlighted several of his new favorites for us, but they're just a sampling of the fresh discoveries in store.

"All our portions are sample-sized so Guests can taste their way around the world without filling up too fast," Hannon points out. He advises studying the complimentary Festival Passport as a way to keep track of all the "must-taste" dishes you want to try. Then leave some room to try something new. "The Festival is all about exploring and experimenting. This is definitely the place to be bold and adventurous," Hannon says.

The Festival also dishes up a full menu of special events, including culinary demonstrations and seminars with top chefs, the perennially popular "Eat to the Beat" Concert Series featuring Sheila E, 98 Degrees and MercyMe who are appearing at the Festival for the first time. Kids of all ages will enjoy a fun activity—"Remy's Ratatouille Hide & Squeak" scavenger hunt. "Guests will have fun searching for Remy on a savory scavenger hunt around the Festival," says Emily Davis, Epcot® Festival Art Director. Guests buy a special, stylized map with stickers showing all the locations in Epcot® where they can find statuettes of Remy, plus a recipe ingredient to make his signature dish—ratatouille. A prize is awarded to everyone who participates. "It's a great way to see all the sites in World Showcase, getting the whole family involved," says Davis.

If the Festival whets your appetite for more great food at home, use your Cardmember savings of 10% off select merchandise purchases of $50 or more at select locations to bring home Festival apparel, glassware, kitchenware or the new Disney Festivals Cookbook which features recipes from all four Epcot® Festivals throughout the year, the Disney California Adventure® Food & Wine Festival and the Disney Festival of Holidays at Epcot®.<sup>4</sup> A "must-have" for all the "foodies" out there. # Cruising with Magic Enhancements to the Disney Magic cruise ship offer new experiences for everyone in the family.

When you take a Disney cruise you're embarking on an adventure every member of the family will enjoy. "There's so much to see and do onboard for the entire family," says Christiaan Abbott, Director of Entertainment, Disney Cruise Line. The Disney Magic ship is a perfect example.

Families can enjoy water play at two pools, while adults can relax at the adults-only pool with its recently redesigned Signals Bar and Cove Café, an inviting coffee bar. Kids ages 3-12 will love playing alongside some of their favorite Disney Characters at Disney's Oceaneer Club. And teens will enjoy hanging out at their own club, Vibe, which has been reimagined with cool industrial loft décor, a coffee/smoothie bar and the latest virtual and augmented reality gaming platforms.

While the kids are having a blast, Guests 18 and older can relax at various clubs in the adult nighttime district or enjoy dinner at Palo, an elegant adults-only restaurant. The family fun continues with deck parties and fireworks on most sailings.

This year, one of the most exciting additions on the Disney Magic is Rapunzel's Royal Table Restaurant, the first Tangled-themed restaurant of its kind. The spectacular all-family dining experience takes Guests into the regal ballroom in Corona's royal castle where they participate in a jubilant celebration featuring singing, dancing, appearances by Rapunzel and Flynn Rider and mischief making by the Snuggly Duckling Thugs. The new dining experience makes a perfect pairing with "Tangled: The Musical," a Broadway-caliber stage show, which is performed on select nights of the voyage.

With so much to do, from the moment you board Disney Magic to the day you disembark, you'll enjoy the happiest sailing on the seven seas. Magic ahoy!

Time for a Nostalgic Reunion

Join a new adventure with old friends in Christopher Robin, the first live-action film starring A.A. Milne's beloved characters.

THE VOICE EVERYONE LOVES

Voices are key to bringing the characters to life. Pooh's voice is as warm and gruff as we remember, thanks to the talents of veteran voice actor, Jim Cummings, who has played Winnie the Pooh in Disney animated features since 1988. "Just hearing Jim's voice pulls my nostalgia heartstrings," Burr says.

MOMENTS TO REMEMBER

One of Burr's favorite scenes in the film is a moment when Christopher Robin apologizes to Pooh for having forgotten him when he grew up. "The interaction between the two characters is beautiful," Burr recalls. "On the day we shot that scene, the gray sky opened up and gave us the most gorgeous sunset. I cry every time I watch that scene."

RECONNECT WITH THE SIMPLE THINGS IN LIFE

"I want to make movies that make you feel better. This movie does that in spades," Burr concludes. "You laugh. You cry. You have an experience." Rekindle some of the magic of your own childhood this summer by sharing Christopher Robin. As Pooh might say, "There's always time for a smackerel of wonder."

TIME FOR A LITTLE SOMETHING

Enjoy charming merchandise inspired by Christopher Robin at Disney store and shopDisney.com. From cuddly plush to apparel and more, make room in your home and heart for Pooh's innocent wisdom and gentle humor and enjoy your Cardmember savings of 10% on select purchases."

"Sometimes, doing nothing often leads to the very best something," says Winnie the Pooh in a key moment from the new Disney film, Christopher Robin, directed by Marc Forster. The heartwarming live-action adventure brings the beloved bear and his friends from the Hundred Acre Wood to theaters on August 3rd. In the film, Christopher Robin (Ewan McGregor), now an adult, is stuck in a job where he is overworked, underpaid and facing an uncertain future. Christopher has all but forgotten his idyllic childhood and he feels frayed and worn around the edges. But when he is reunited with Winnie the Pooh, their friendship is rekindled, reminding Christopher of the endless days of childlike wonder and make-believe that defined his youth.

CREATING CHRISTOPHER ROBIN'S FRIENDS

To create a photorealistic version of Winnie the Pooh and his friends who would feel familiar to audiences, but also fit into the live-action world, the filmmakers drew on E.H. Shepard's classic illustrations from the original 1920s books, as well as years of Disney animation art. "The characters in the film are computer generated animation, but we needed real stuffed animals as reference when we blocked the scenes," Kristin Burr, Producer, explains. Between 20 and 30 different fabrics were used to create the stuffed Pooh Bear which was distressed to look a little worn and tattered. This gave the actors something real to react to during their scenes.

"Christopher Robin reminds us of what we all inherently knew as children—to have fun!"

—Kristin Burr, Producer

Ooh la la!

Say "Bonjour" to Fancy Nancy on Disney Junior.

She loves tutus, feathers, lace, speaking French phrases and doing everything possible to make her family, her world and herself as fancy as possible. She's Nancy, the adorable six-year-old heroine of the beloved book series by Jane O'Connor and now the star of a "positively sublime" new animated series on Disney Junior this summer.

"Nancy's drive to make everything fancy was my entry point," says Story Editor and Head Writer, Krista Tucker. "One of the things I love most is that she is very creative, finding objects she needs to bring her vision to life. A tablecloth becomes a gown, a feather duster tied to a pen becomes a plume. She's the original upcycler!"

Nancy's enthusiasm doesn't always work out, however, according to Tucker. "She has complete self-confidence until she realizes that her skills don't always match her ideas," Tucker explains. Like any youngster, Nancy is also not above trying to make others go along with her ideas. "Nancy has her own learning curves about herself and her relationships. We are taking those little moments in childhood and finding the humor in them," Tucker says. "That's what makes these stories work. They're grounded in reality."

"I love this character. She reaches far. She dreams big. She goes for life!"

—Krista Tucker, Story Editor and Head Writer

"Emotionally, Nancy is a very real little girl," says Jamie Mitchell, Executive Producer and Director. "So we wanted to make her world feel real and contemporary, too—so kids everywhere could relate to her. We also used a shooting style I call 'kid reality,' so you see the world through a child's point of view. By putting the camera low, everything seems larger just as it does when you're six years old!"

"Nancy's not a super hero," Tucker concludes. "She's a human little kid interacting with the real world and reacting when things don't always go her way. But she's not bratty. She's just confident, imaginative and unapologetic about who she is. Like all of us, Nancy is learning that 'it's not all about me,' but the lessons are always fun. I think both kids and adults will love her. After all, we all have a little bit of Nancy in us!"
